ANTI-LYNCH BILL DROPS IN DISCARD BY FILIBUSTERING

Clever Democratic Work
Put the Skids Under Measure

POSTOFFICES TREMBLED Complete Abandonment of Measure Aimed at South

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 2. — Success crowned the filibuster of senate democrats against the Dyer anti-lynching bill today when republican senators in party caucus voted to abandon the measure completely.

The republican majority acted after the democrats by what is generally conceded one of the most efficient methods in the history of the senate had prevented the transaction of any business for the fourth consecutive legislative day. The obstructionist tactics of the democrats moreover were threatening more than a thousand presidential nominations which if unconfirmed by Monday noon, when the special session ends, must be again submitted.

The republican caucus was presided by a conference attended by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the republican leader, Curtis, of Kansas, the republican whip, and Senator Shortridge, of California, in charge of the Dyer anti-lynching bill. Senator Shortridge, who had been immovable throughout the filibuster, was understood to have agreed at this conference to allow the fate of the bill to be decided by a majority caucus.

The question of abandoning the measure, which was passed by the house last session, was debated in the caucus for two hours with, it is understood, a small minority holding out for a continuation of the fight. The final decision, however, was to direct Senator Lodge to inform democratic leaders that the bill would be pushed no further either at the special session or at the regular session convening Monday.

HOOPER CHARGES LABOR IS TRYING TO WRECK ROADS

Definite Program for the Government to Take
Lines Over

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Dec. 2.—Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the railroad labor board, in a speech before the Illinois Bar association, here tonight charged that many railway union leaders are waging warfare against the roads with the purpose of destroying the industry and forwarding a political campaign for government ownership.

"A large portion of the union magazines which reach me contain bitter attacks on the railroads, their management and their policies," he said. "These criticisms are not confined to matters of direct controversy between the roads and the employees, but they cover every ground of attack that might be made by those outside of railroad employment."

TURK CONTENTION HAS DISAPPROVAL FROM FIVE POWERS

Special Privileges to Foreigners
Must Continue to Stand

(By Associated Press)
Lausanne, Dec. 2. — America and Japan both lined up with Great Britain, France and Italy today when they took their stand against Ismet Pasha's contention that Turkey had wiped out all capitulations or extra territorial rights for foreigners, by declaring them null in October, 1914.

Richard Washburn Child, spokesman for the United States, said that if any legal dispute arises the Washington government will be obliged to take the same position as the allied powers. He expressed the belief, however, that the common interest of all concerned in the situation will make it possible to find satisfactory guarantees to replace the capitulations which are so distasteful to Turkey.

The commission decided at today's session to name three sub-commissions to consider the various aspects of the capitulations problem and report to the conference. The first will consider a scheme of judicial guarantees for foreigners as a substitute for the present system of foreign courts; the second will discuss economic questions, especially taxation of foreign property in Turkey; and the third will consider the status of persons living in Turkey who are under the protection of foreign countries.

GATES WILL OPEN

ON FIRST ANNUAL
PUTNAM COUNTY FAIR

Next Tuesday Morning

"We are all set. Let's go!"

That will be the cry on Tuesday morning when the first annual Putnam County Fair will be fairly started on its way to a successful week.

Activities at the grounds selected for this event were at high tension all of yesterday. Men and women were engaged in all sections of the grounds and the buildings. There was not an idle person to be found. Carpenters were adding just a little here and there, plumbers were connecting the various mains with convenient faucets, and the electrical workers were "up in the air," literally speaking, for the ground will be well illuminated. The evening sessions will be as satisfactory as those held in the day—for the management has seen to it that electricity shall not be stinted.

One notable point about those in charge of the fair is that all are serving without pay of any sort—except the satisfaction which comes from having done a good work for the entire county. This does not apply to those workmen engaged at manual labor—although some of the board of directors are as hard-working as any of those employed. The duties assumed by these directors were taken with the complete understanding that they serve free—and they have been holding strictly to the understanding.

At this time no details can be given as to the hundreds of exhibits which will greet the eye when the grounds are visited. At the entrance of the grounds stands the ticket booth, and following along the avenue there is to be seen on the right the large house which will be devoted to poultry. A little way beyond has been constructed an excellent shed, with stalls for a large number of exhibition stock. Here the stock can be well cared for and fed and watered with more convenience than at many of the farms from which they will be brought. It is well roofed and a fine building in every way. At the rear of that building are the pens for the hogs, built in a manner that will resist the attacks of the strongest porker that will be brought to the exhibition. This is not roofed.

Commencing at the entrance to the grounds on the opposite side of the avenue stands the main exhibition building fully one hundred feet in length and of a corresponding width. Back of that stands the community building, where the several communities of the county will place their showings and compete for the prizes. In one of these buildings will be exhibits from the leading merchants of Palatka, each having been willing to subscribe for space in proportion to the business of the establishments themselves. These two buildings are very substantially constructed, and are weather proof in every way.

Between these two larger buildings was being constructed yesterday a booth which will be maintained by the Pythian Sisters, while about the grounds there will be found concessions of various sorts at which refreshments will be sold during the week of the fair.

At the rear of these buildings will be found the "shows" of Johnnie J. Jones, who comes with a large aggregation of his very popular attractions—including his band, which will be a feature of the affair. There will be the usual devices which people know so well and enjoy at each recurring visit of this one "carnival," and there promises to be added attractions to the previous showings. The presence of Johnnie J. Jones will be a decided feature of the week—while it will not detract from the many splendid exhibits which will be shown in the many sections of the various divisions.

The first fair fathered by Putnam county promises to be a complete success. Indications now point to a large attendance, not only from residents of the county, but from those living in adjoining counties, for the reputation of Palatka for doing all that is promised, and a little more, is well known.

Every resident of Palatka should take an active interest in this affair, and should do everything possible to encourage it. The private individual owes it to the city and county to say good things for the fair and to the good words add the frequent attendance. The fair will be of a nature that one trip will not show all the good things; only by repeated visits will the excellence of all entries be fully realized.

The regular program of the fair will be given each day in The News, and any changes which may be decided upon will thus be given publicity. One change has already been made. Friday had been named as "Colored People's day," and this will be the fact up to 6 in the evening. At 7 in the evening the Shriners, headed by the Johnnie J. Jones band, will parade from their hall to the grounds, and the remainder of the night will be devoted to the actions and antics of that body. It is declared that what they will not do a tbe fair and at the carnival could be told in a few moments; but the orders have gone forth that the entire grounds are to be theirs for that evening.

BOOZE-LADEN BOAT HURRIED FOR HOME TO AVOID TROUBLE

Boat Carried Officers
Away—Kidnapping
Now Charged

(By Associated Press)
New York, Dec. 2.—Outspeeding the police tug Manhattan, which had been ordered to overtake her, the Cunard Liner Assyria tonight slashed past Sandy Hook and headed for Scotland carrying with her 11,505 cases of whisky deported by federal prohibition agents, and two deputy sheriffs alleged to have been "kidnapped" while executing an order to seize part of the cargo.

When the Manhattan gave chase the Assyria already was well down the bay on her way to Scotland. The deputies had gone aboard to execute a writ of replevin against the 4,000 cases issued in behalf of the Alps Drug company. ## PERRY GIRL WITH THROAT CUT FOUND BY SIDE RAILROAD

Had Left Home But Few Minutes Before She Was Attacked

MAN HUNT IS STARTED Up to a Late Hour Last Night Guilty Person Not Arrested

(By Associated Press)
Perry, Fla., Dec. 2.—The body of Miss Ruby Hendry, a young school teacher, was found alongside the railroad tracks between Perry and her home by a train crew this afternoon. Her throat had been slashed and her head beaten with a blunt instrument.

The body was found just outside of town near a creek over which she had to cross in coming from her home to town. The attack occurred about 4 o'clock. A few minutes earlier she had left the home of her sister, Mrs. H. A. Miller, with whom she lived, to come to town, a distance of about a quarter of a mile.

The crew of a passing train noticed the body as they were pulling from the station. The train was halted and authorities notified.

Following an investigation the authorities concluded the attack was the work of a fiend. The ground for several yards around the scene bore mute evidence of the struggle the young woman had made for her life and the suffering she had undergone. Her throat was cut, her head bore bruises from a heavy instrument.

The news of the crime spread rapidly and a man-hunt was soon in the making. Late tonight the authorities said they were working on several indefinite clues, but otherwise their search had been fruitless.

The young woman was described as being about 21 or 22 years old, and pretty, or, in the words of one of those who knew her well, she was "a sweet, unobtrusive, wholesome country girl, loved and esteemed by the community."

MILITARISM WAS APPARENT IN U. S. SAYS CLEMENCEAU

Denies That France Has Ever Had Such a Tendency

(By United Press)
St. Louis, Dec. 2.—Re-entry of America into European affairs, either as member of the League of Nations or on some other basis was urged by Georges Clemenceau, war-time premier of France, in the fourth of his series of addresses in this country, delivered at the Odeon before a capacity audience that applauded him roundly at frequent intervals.

The Tiger summarizing what he thought he had accomplished so far on his tour of America, declared he believed he had convinced the country that France was not materialistic or imperialistic, and that she had every intention of paying off her debt to the United States.

In the midst of his discussion of militarism he reiterated his statement that America showed signs of militarism herself and launched into a criticism of her naval policy.

"I do not intend to interfere in your policy," he said, "however, you interfered in mine (referring to the militarism charges), and I think I have the right to say that sometimes you were very much inclined toward the development of your military establishment."
